

DAILY FABLES

Daily Fables is a Dutch children's TV series featuring puppetry and stop motion, based upon fables of Jean de La Fontaine and Aesop. Created in 1968 it ended in 1989 and was broadcast on over 40 channels all over the world. A new TV series is in production.

Keywords

- educational
- evergreen
- for boys and girls
- multiple age groups
- universal daily life themes

Facts

- Based on the fables of Jean de La Fontaine (1658)
- Expected 2018: Dutch National Coin will be launched, 50 years celebration, special publication by Rubinstein (coffee-table book)
- Expected 2019: 52 episodes x 7 minutes new CGI series!
- Broadcast among others in Benelux, Scandinavia, UK, Italy, France, Hungary, Israel, South-America

Worldwide publishing and merchandising rights:

RUBINSTEIN

Anne-Marie Lansdaal, Adrienne Hak @licensing@rubinstein.nl ☎ +31 20 42 00 772

🏠 Prinseneiland 43 1013 LL Amsterdam The Netherlands www.rubinstein.nl